About CyberOne
CyberOne Security, also known as C1Risk, is a technology company founded in 2015 in Silicon Valley. CyberOne is a productivity platform for compliance and risk management for Cybersecurity. CyberOne is a global brand supporting customers in North America, Europe, and Latin America. For more information, visit us at www.c1risk.com

Role
Software Engineer Intern / Remote

Summary
This is an opportunity to join a growing startup and make an impact in everything you do while gaining valuable experience with industry's standards for software development. We are looking for interns to provide hands-on execution for all aspects of our engineering function. You will help us document the requirements, design, implement, and/or perform quality assurance testing. We are looking for someone who is creative and someone who is obsessed with automation and simplicity. We are looking for a team player who can help us make something complex seem simple.

Job Description

- Understand and provide engineering documentations for product features
- Work with the Architects on the design documentation
- Work with the Product Manager to understand requirements
- Create engineering plans and tasks in Jira and Confluence
- Implement software code in React, Java, and Spring Framework
- Implement scripting code in Node.js, python, etc
- Research, proposal and implementation design options for technical debts
- Debug issues and resolve them
- Identify issues and report them
- Research and implement CI/CD automation Quality Assurance
- Design test cases
- Develop and Implement unit scripts to increase code coverage
- Implement security scans for vulnerabilities
- Implement automate integration testing and
- Setup test environment for automation testing
- Write automation test scripts
- Understand and implement best practices for release management

Education
Some work experience and/or Junior or Senior in Computer Science or Management Information Systems in a 4-year University or equivalent

Location
Remote Only

Compensation
TBD - this is a contract to hire position

Requirements
You must use your own laptop with minimum 16 GB RAM.
You must have access to a reliable internet. Must be able to work minimum 30-40 hours per week.

If interested, please send your resume to hr@c1risk.com.